Pastor's Message

A few days ago, Jeanette Phillips brought to my attention something that was written in the history of our congregation. Rev. Pessel, the pastor at the time, wrote the following in a letter: "We had a terrible time here with the flu. People died like flies. One, two, three, or four funerals a day. Got at last tired of burying people. They were in their prime, no older people at all. Many children orphaned. Almost everyone was sick with the flu or pneumonia."

I can't imagine how exhausted Rev. Pessel was in 1918. Not only had World War I just ended, but the epidemic of the Spanish Flu was picking up. My heart goes out to this former pastor of our congregation. To experience your congregants getting sick and many younger congregants dying would have been heartbreaking.

I imagine that all of us are experiencing a sense of this exhaustion in 2020. While we are blessed with technology like the internet, better access to phones, and the ability to continue connection through email and social media, we still are abiding in an unprecedented time during our lives - something St. Paul and all of us haven't had to experience in 102 years. What we believed to be a two-week hiatus in March has ended up becoming a situation in which we are having many difficult conversations on how to safely co-exist with this virus in our communities. There is no doubt that all of us are exhausted in trying to navigate our current world and attempting to make the healthiest decision for all - whether in our families or workplaces. On top of all of this, some of you may have experienced this terrible virus, watched a family member get ill, or lost a loved one due to complications from COVID-19. Our prayers are with you as you face this illness directly.

The exhaustion in living in our current world is real. We are all trying our best to live in this current realm, looking forward to moments that remind us of pre-COVID lives and getting back to a life that looks much like 2019. We are working to move forward while being very intentional about being safe. Our staff and volunteers have worked diligently and innovatively as possible to continue the ministry and mission of our congregation. As we have seen recently, we are dealing with the "whiplash" that comes with moving forward then needing to take a step back when the regional rate of infection increases.

We miss our old lives and the ease in which many daily activities came to us - everything and anything from figuring out how to safely go to the store to how to safely socialize with our friends.

What we must remember is that God is steadfast in bringing us the peace, wisdom, and support we need. When we feel this sense of exhaustion, our call is to take a few moments to look for God in our current situation. A scripture that I am holding very close to me during this time is Isaiah 40:31: "those who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint."

There is no doubt in my mind that God was helping out Rev. Pessel in 1918 here at St. Paul UCC. God is guiding all of us, and God will see us through this time just like God did back 102 years ago.

Blessings,
Pastor Michelle

From The President's Corner

Welcome to September! Our weather for August has ended up being somewhat hot and humid with some wonderfully cool and dry days and nights mixed in. As we start this new month, hopefully, we'll see a continued cool down as the days slowly get shorter and the nights longer. With this in mind, I hope my fourth letter as council president still finds you all still doing well as we all continue to combat this coronavirus disease that knows no bounds. We can't be too careful or let our guard down for a moment as evidenced by a recent resurgence of new cases in our area with a resulting tightening of the restrictions in our area to further protect us all.

As you may all know, we're still meeting and conducting our church activities on a regular basis through our established Teams, the Executive Council and the Council itself using our virtual mediums. However, this takes a concerted and vigorous effort on the part of many of our members and our wonderful supportive church staff who does what is needed for our church without hesitation. No better evidence of that is the Worship Group starting with Pastor Michelle, that continues to produce our Sunday virtual services, our Zoom fellowship hours and the many other things we all enjoy through that medium. Continued thanks also to Dr. Bill Wade and John Posth and our church choir who put in several hours each week to produce our wonderful music that we all enjoy each Sunday morning. I also know that the members of the choir who are in the Bell group are now practicing faithfully every week for the day when they again can perform for us inside the sanctuary.

Our church regathering team under the excellent leadership of Mimi Llamas and Dave Hoffmann, continues to be very active and meets regularly in addressing all of the issues we need to consider as we diligently plan for opening our inside sanctuary service again. Our team has members who are willing to devote their time and talents to help as we all wrestle with some tough decisions on reopening with safety being at the foremost. I know frustration sets in as they set new dates for reopening in our sanctuary and then for one reason or another they have to cancel those dates. However, on a bright note, our outdoor services have been quite successful except for some unwanted weather intrusions.

We plan to continue those beginning at 6 PM on 1st Street through the end of September. We follow all of the rules outside to protect us from the virus including masks and social distancing. Hopefully you all can make one of outdoor services as everyone seems to enjoy them. You can rest assured that the entire regathering team continues to work deliberately to make our facility and you all as safe as possible for both the outdoor services as well as when we do eventually return to our sanctuary.

I also want to mention that our church office reopening has worked out quite well for everyone. If you have business that requires you to come to the church, please enter through the office doors on the B Street side. If you can, please call the church office before arrival so they will be expecting you, And don't forget your mask! You will be signed in and have your temperature checked.

I did want to mention that the restoration effort for Heritage Hall is now complete. I can't say enough about the outstanding effort that Dave Hoffmann and Roger Harris did in leading this effort and the willingness by all of the volunteers to helped where needed. And last but not least, this could not have been done without the outpouring of generosity by so many of you but most especially Jerry Messick. Heritage Hall will serve as an excellent venue for many social and other events that all can enjoy once we're back inside our church. When the opportunity allows and we get back inside, stop by, take a look at Heritage Hall and enjoy the wonderful and magnificent handiwork of so many.

Wayne Caughman, Council President 2020

A Letter from Your Regathering Team

As most of you know, the rate of infections have increased in this area of Illinois, and new restrictions have been established to reduce the number of infections. Due to the new restrictions placed on the region this week, we will not be holding in-person worship in the sanctuary until further notice. We will continue to monitor the guidelines regarding COVID-19 and will keep you posted on our return to the sanctuary.

Last week, we sent out a letter detailing how we will hold worship services in the sanctuary. While the date of our initial in-person worship is no longer valid, the guidelines will remain the same when we return to the sanctuary for in-person worship. While the guidelines may seem overwhelming, from our research, we know this is the safest way for us to hold worship in the sanctuary. And while it may be different for the time being, having modified worship in the sanctuary with guidelines will still afford us the opportunity to worship together in a space that we love. We are looking forward to the day - hopefully in the near future - in which we can be in this space together to share our love of God.

We will continue to hold the First Street outdoor worship service on Sunday nights at 6pm. The six (6)-foot distance between households is necessary; please sit where the X's are marked on First Street. And as always, bring a chair and wear your mask as we worship together under God's beautiful creation!

We apologize for the inconvenience of having to take the steps backwards due to new guidelines and thank you for your flexibility, friends. This is a time like no other, and we will continue to look forward with hope and anticipation to worshipping together in the sanctuary again.

Please feel free to contact us with any questions.

Blessings,
